North Bay Business Journal

The North Bay Business Journal (NBBJ) is a primary source for local business news. More than 67% of readers are owners, partners, or corporate level executives. This weekly publication offers a variety of editorial topics that relate to the various business interests in the North Bay. Published weekly the paper is distributed in three counties; Sonoma, Marin and Napa.

There are many special sections that spotlight particular industries, including construction, health, wine and technology. If your interest is to place your company in front of businesses, business owners and key management, the NBBJ has much to offer.

NCBE members will benefit from a special offer to members only allowing for a 26x insertion rate for 3 issues. Choose from the NBBJ editorial calendar the issues you want to appear in and plan to include the NCBE participation banner to the bottom of your ad. Billing for this program will come from NCBE (see www.ncbeadvertising.com).
